Consent orders for applicants with felony criminal histories

Ms. Coleman was present starting from this portion of the meeting.

Mr. Seavers offered background information for the agenda item. He explained that the board often issues consent orders for individuals with felony criminal histories that include offenses involving substance abuse or violence. In these cases, the board typically will require the individual to show that he or she has completed a 40-hour program for substance abuse, domestic violence, or anger management. However, a board member had indicated that a recently graduated student had difficulty completing the program because of the pandemic. Mr. Seavers said that the board hasn't allowed these individuals to get temporary permits or licenses until the 40-hour program had been completed. However, the board could change its approach and allow individuals to get a temporary permit while they complete the 40-hour program.

Mr. Swinney explained that he asked the issue to be brought up because he was aware of a student in this situation, and he anticipated others being in the same circumstance. He didn't believe that these individuals should get an apprentice license unless they'd completed the program, but he believed they should get a temporary license. He noted that the pandemic had created unanticipated challenges for applicants.

Mr. Swinney made a motion to allow these applicants to receive a temporary permit despite the consent order terms. Mr. Holloway seconded the motion, which passed, 5–0.
